

Board Policy Chamber Relationship to Elected Public Officials

Background

The Executive has decided that the Hamilton Chamber requires a written board policy concerning its relationship to elected officials. It will be written to support and guide members and staff in meeting the Chamber's commitment to being and to being perceived as the "ethical voice of business".

Customary practice does not permit those holding elected public office to sit as voting members on the Board of Directors, to serve as Committee &/or Division Chairs, or to even participate on a regular or voting basis in the Government Affairs Committee. Our Chamber, however, has no existing written board policy statement. Additionally, guidelines addressing the issue of a Director's status while running for elected office are non-existent. Finally, there are no written policy guidelines for how the Chamber leadership team and employees are to relate to candidates for public office.

Further to the above-mentioned, because one of the Chamber's functions is to represent members to government, some members periodically infer that the 'Chamber' should be either critical or supportive of certain elected officials. In order for the Chamber to truly maintain its integrity in this area of accountability, we need to ensure that board members and staff separate their personal political beliefs and activities from the Chamber and its resources.
